BriPublish, a leading brand under the BriBooks Group, has launched the 2024 edition of the National Book Writing Fest (NBWF), a groundbreaking event designed to empower university students across India to write, publish, and share their stories. This year's Fest will be free of charge, ensuring accessibility for all students nationwide, with participation from top public and private universities. Open to both undergraduate and postgraduate students, NBWF offers an extraordinary opportunity to become a published author, adding a significant accomplishment to participants' professional CVs.

National Book Writing Fest 2024 – Organized by BriPublish

Empowering Tomorrows Leaders Through Writing

The NBWF initiative aims to provide students with career-enhancing benefits, media exposure, and a chance to secure prestigious awards, including a cash prize of up to Rs. 1,00,000 for outstanding authors. Additionally, participants will gain national and global media visibility, broadening their audience and impact as emerging writers.

Ami Dror, Founder & President of BriBooks Group, expressed his enthusiasm, stating, "The National Book Writing Fest is a transformative initiative designed to unleash the potential of our youth by giving them a powerful voice. Through BriPublish, we are not only helping students become authors but also empowering them to shape narratives that inspire others. NBWF embodies our mission to make writing and publishing accessible, meaningful, and impactful for everyone."
