Dave & Busters, America's premier entertainment and dining destination popular for its arcade games, social gaming, bowling, and immersive experiences, announces its highly anticipated entry into the Indian market with its flagship outlet at Mantri Avenue in Koramangala, Bangalore. This marks a significant milestone for the brand as it expands internationally for the first time, to India, offering guests a unique blend of American and locally inspired Pan-Asian cuisine alongside a wide array of exciting entertainment options.

The first Dave & Busters Outlet in India, Bangalore

This expansive 27,000 sq ft venue will offer a state-of-the-art midway filled with world-class games, many of which are being introduced to India for the first time, such as Godzilla VR, NBA hoops, Pacman roller, and so on. Guests can also experience competitive social gaming and Indias first bowling experience, which features Nitro Lighting and Sparks combined. These cutting-edge attractions promise a vibrant and dynamic atmosphere designed to create lasting memories for friends and families.

"The Malpani Group is committed to bringing new experiences and entertainment to India. By bringing Dave & Busters to India, we look forward to elevating the gaming and arcade experience," said Shreya Malpani, the Director of the Malpani Group. "With Bangalores booming food and beverage scene, there is a strong demand for a place where friends and families can have fun and spend time together. Dave & Busters perfectly fills this gap, offering a space for families, friends, colleagues, and people of all ages to enjoy. Dave & Busters will also be progressively expanding across India, with plans to open 15 new locations shortly, beginning with the next store launching in Mumbai. The inaugural store in Bangalore will pave the way for an exciting journey that promises growth and success for both our companies."

Talking further about Dave and Buster's opening in India, the Chief International Development Officer at Dave & Busters, Antonio Bautista, says, "This is a momentous occasion for Dave & Buster's as we expand into India, a market with a dynamic culture and a growing appetite for premium entertainment. Bangalore, known for its energy and innovation, is the ideal city to launch our journey in India. Partnering with the Malpani Group marks a pivotal milestone in our global growth strategy, as we continue to bring the 'Eat, Drink, Play, and Watch' experience to new audiences worldwide. With a robust pipeline spanning seven countries across four continents in 2025, this launch reinforces our commitment to delivering world-class experiences and introducing our brand to one of the most vibrant and exciting regions in the world."

This partnership between Malpani Group and Dave & Buster's Entertainment Inc. supports Dave & Buster's expansion strategy of combining global expertise with local market insight. Each Indian location will feature a tailored menu with regional flavors, localized pricing models, and unique gaming experiences designed to resonate with local audiences.
