EuroSchool HSR, Bengaluru, one of India's leading K-12 school campuses, inaugurated its newly developed co-curricular learning spaces, marking a significant milestone in strengthening its holistic education. The inauguration was graced by acclaimed music composer Mr. Ehsaan Noorani, of the legendary Shankar-Ehsaan-Loy trio, reinforcing the school's focus on arts, creativity, and all-round development as integral to learning.

Designed to nurture creativity, emotional well-being, physical fitness, and artistic excellence, the newly launched facilities include a Yoga Room, Multipurpose Hall, Art Room, and dedicated Music Studios for Guitar, Keyboard, and Drums, and a Dance Studio. These purpose-built spaces reflect EuroSchool HSR's belief that co-curricular education is not an add-on, but a core pillar embedded within the school's learning framework and pedagogy.

The new learning environment supports skill-based learning across disciplines, mindfulness and wellness yoga, structured music, movement, and visual arts. They enable students to build curiosity, confidence, discipline and emotional intelligence to discover themselves.

Speaking about the initiative, Ms Kavitha Neelayath, Principal, EuroSchool HSR, said, “At EuroSchool HSR, we strongly believe that education must go beyond academics to truly prepare children for life. Our newly inaugurated co-curricular spaces are designed with a clear intent to help students discover their passions early, nurture their talents meaningfully, and grow with confidence. By embedding co-curricular programs within school hours and offering expert-led, structured learning pathways, we ensure that every child receives a balanced and enriching educational experience.”

Mr Noorani’s presence at the inauguration further reflects EuroSchool’s commitment to offering students real-world inspiration through cultural and industry role models, helping them understand the relevance of creative pursuits in today’s evolving world.
