Pushing Boundaries: Simta Astrix, Top Brand in uPVC Windows and Doors

Under Simta Group (established in 1991), Simta Astrix was founded in 2013 to deliver high performance uPVC doors and windows by leveraging German technology and global standards. Today, it stands among the top brands in the uPVC windows and doors market, trusted by architects, builders, and homeowners and also as a go-to partner for fabricators across India. When it comes to homes and commercial hubs, Simta Astrix shines for their durable, weather-resistant, and design-driven door and window solutions. Meeting all manufacturing and international standards, the company employs high-quality raw materials and cutting-edge European extrusion technology. Customer insight backed by technical precision has helped the company scale new heights and strengthen its market presence in the Indian construction landscape.

Simta Astrix has built an efficient and responsive supply ecosystem, anchored by 450+ fabrication partners. From Delhi, Noida, Hyderabad, Bangalore, Chennai, Kolkata and more, Simta Astrix's pan-India reach and growing network of fabrication experts empower the brand to serve diverse projects with speed and consistency.

To fill the gap between product design and customer aspirations, Simta Astrix has established Experience Centres in major cities such as Delhi, Bangalore, Chennai, and Coimbatore. The centres enable architects, developers, and end users to engage directly with the products. Interested people can visit to experience materials, finishes, configurations, and hardware. It is a place to make product selection a simplified, guided process.

The company has collaborated with some of the most well-known players in real estate and construction companies as they work alongside Puravankara Limited, Brigade Group, Sobha Limited and many more. Simta's unique windows and doors solutions have been utilized in varied projects, including residential townships and commercial complexes, educational campuses and healthcare institutions. They have demonstrated their versatility to meet varied architectural needs.

More than the high-quality products, Simta Astrix's success emerges from the strategically balanced mix of technological advancement, skilled professionals, customer-first thinking, and a commitment to excellence. Recognized as one of the top brands in the market for uPVC windows and doors, the company continues to earn the trust of industry professionals and end users alike.

With modern homeowners and builders seeking smarter, stronger solutions, performance becomes a priority in urban architecture. Simta Astrix keeps up as they scale up their operations and introduce a broader range of door and window systems. Simta Astrix thrives forward as they invest more in research and development, design customization, and fabrication support. Establishing higher standards for building solutions in India, they deliver long-term value in thermal efficiency, noise insulation, and aesthetics.
